Dear Ms. St. John,

As announced last Fall, a change in policy regarding Title IV-E of the Social Security Act Title IV-E was made in January 2019. The change allows states (counties) to claim partial federal reimbursement for attorneys representing children and their parents in child welfare cases. A WebEx informational meeting was held on December 13, 2019, to explain the change, present a draft Agreement and answer subsequent questions. The Agreement to access the reimbursement is a three-party agreement between the Department of Child Safety, the Administrative Office of the Courts and each county. Attached for your review and signature are three copies of the Agreement prepared for your county. Please sign each copy. One copy should be kept for your records and shared with those in your county who will be responsible for submitting for the reimbursement and the other two copies should be mailed back to me, as soon as possible, in the enclosed envelope.

Re: Appointment of Administrative Hearing Officer for Code Enforcement Related Hearings

Summary:

The purpose of this memorandum is to request that the Board of Supervisors designates and appoints Administrative Hearing Officers (primary and alternate) for code enforcement related civil hearings in lieu of civil court proceedings to improve timeliness of compliance and efficiency of process.

Background:

Currently properties that do not come into compliance with code requirements within the allotted time frame are forwarded to the County Attorney's Office and scheduled for a court hearing. This process is time consuming, resource intensive and limits the County to only collecting a one-time civil penalty if the property is not brought into compliance. Appointing an Administrative Hearing Officer allows the compliance process to move forward with greater efficiency and the ability to levy further penalties if the property is not brought into compliance. It also allows for greater flexibility in working towards compliance with our citizens. The current code enforcement process follows the steps outlined below:

1. Initial Complaint: Once a signed written complaint is received, it is researched for background information.
2. Field Inspections: An initial site inspection is conducted on each complaint, which validates the violation(s) listed in the complaint. If no violation is observed the case is closed.
3. Notice of Violation: If an inspection reveals that a violation exists, staff will prepare a case file. A letter outlining the compliance time frame (usually 30 – 60 days depending on the nature of the violation) are prepared and mailed to the property owner with specific instructions to take measures to bring the property into compliance. The property owner is advised that another site inspection will be performed within the compliance timeframe, to verify that the violation has been corrected. If an inspection is conducted after the compliance timeframe and the inspection reveals that a violation exists, then the hearing date will be set.

Under the current process, when compliance is not achieved by the date listed in the Notice of Violation, the case is forwarded to the County Attorney's office to be scheduled for a civil court hearing. This process is not time or cost efficient. In lieu of a civil court hearing, there is an existing process to schedule the case for an administrative hearing. The rules of procedure for the administrative hearings and Santa Cruz County Hearing Officer are outlined in the Santa Cruz County Zoning and Development Code Article 8, Enforcement and Review, so no ordinance amendments would be needed to implement this procedure.

Under the administrative hearing process, after a final inspection is made and the property is still in violation, the property owner is summoned before the Hearing Officer. At this hearing, the determination is made as to whether the property is in violation of the Santa Cruz County Zoning and Development Codes. If the property owner is found responsible, a civil sanction or monetary fine may be imposed. The Defendant is sent a copy of the judgment against him. At this point in the process, the Hearing Officer gives the order to staff to conduct future inspections to verify if the property owner comes into compliance. If the Defendant does not comply, Arizona Revised Statutes authorizes the Santa Cruz County Zoning and Development Code Violation Hearing Officer to impose fines up to $700.00 per day for continuing violation for an individual person and up to $10,000 per violation per day for enterprises.

Staff Recommendation:
Staff recommends that the Board of Supervisors designate and appoint an Administrative Hearing Officer and an alternate in the event of an absence to hear civil code compliance cases. The Administrative Hearing Officer may be a County employee. A.R.S. § 11-815(G).
