Project Report
By John Hays

January 8th, 2020, through February 4th, 2021

JH

1. During the month of January 2020, the ALERT System reported precipitation within the County ranging from a low of 0.04 inches at Bridge Road and the Santa Cruz River in Tubac to a high of 1.34 inches at Pena Blanca Lake.
2. Staff has received the permit from ADOT regarding the installation of a new gauging station at SR 82 and Sonoita Creek in Patagonia.
3. The Arizona Division of Emergency Management approached Staff regarding submitting the Ephraim Canyon Project as a special Pre-Disaster Mitigation Project with federal matching funds of up to ten million dollars for this year's grant cycle as the one special project for increasing community resilience to disaster. The application has been submitted to the State of Arizona, who has approved it and moved it on to FEMA for consideration.
4. Staff received the results of the Community Assistance Visit and the review of all the permits issued in the last eight years. Four issues of concern were noted by the State of Arizona. Two of the issues were resolved because the structures noted in the field photos were not the structures the permits were concerned with. The other two are in the process of being resolved, and the State has stated that the actions being taken by Staff to provide better information to the State will resolve the issues.
5. Staff is investigating the possibility of a Flood Mitigation Management Plan to address flooding issues along the Santa Cruz River Corridor. The project was approved by the Board on March 21, 2018, and the notice to proceed has been issued. Remapping of the Kino Springs Area, Caralampi Wash and Calabasas Wash are scheduled for Fiscal Year 2019-20. As is design work for projects to address issues at Bodega Drive and along Puerto Canyon. Notices to Proceed for the remapping were issued on August 22, 2019. As of January 6, 2020, all three Letters of Map Revision were submitted. With luck the maps could be changed as early as 6 to 9 months from now, with a worst case time line of 18 months.
6. District Staff is working with ADWR and FEMA to make the additions and changes to the Ordinance. The draft was reviewed by the County Attorney's office and the State. The State asked for some additional corrections, mostly grammatical and to reflect recent chances in references for the State Statutes. Those changes have been made and resubmitted to the State and County Attorney's office for final review. Meetings were held June 4th (Sonoita and Nogales) and 6th (Tubac and Rio Rico), on in the afternoon, and the other in the evening. Additionally, Staff meet with the Santa Cruz Real Estate Association and presented on the changes to the group on June 27th. Staff has also reached out to give a presentation to City of Nogales Staff and Elected Officials and is waiting to hear back on a date and time. Staff has contracted with WLB to provide a comparison of the Draft Ordinance to the existing ordinance and the State Minimum Ordinance to better demonstrate the changes being made. The review is also looking at what affects will happen to our Community Rating System standing. The review has been received and is being considered by Staff.

7. Staff received three (3) Site Review Applications. None (0) were from within the City of Nogales.
8. District Staff received two (2) Floodplain Use Permit applications. One (1) of the applications was located within the City of Nogales.
9. Staff has reviewed one hundred eighty-one (181) properties for floodplain status. Four (4) from the Town of Patagonia. Twenty-five (25) of the requests were from the City of Nogales.
10. Staff received no (0) drainage complaints.
11. The Town of Patagonia had no report when this report was compiled.
12. The City of Nogales had no report when this report was compiled.

Conserve your water while protecting your property!

Capture rainfall runoff close to where it falls from the sky to maximize the potential of the water to provide multiple benefits by slowing water down, spreading it out and sinking it into the ground throughout the watershed

LID Practices can address problems created by stormwater on your property as shown in the illustration below. Shade and air quality are enhanced as a native tree canopy cools the ground and adjacent buildings while producing oxygen and reducing air pollution. Erosion control is improved with rocks and vegetation. Water quality is improved with vegetation as the soil and plant roots strain organic matter, pathogens, phosphorus, and suspended solids out of stormwater. Flooding is reduced while roots from native vegetation and organic wood mulch improve soil health and increase infiltration rates. Water is conserved when deep roots are established and no supplemental watering beyond natural rainfall is needed.

Integrated Design is the process of examining flows of water across a landscape and looking for the best opportunities to utilize that water beneficially to achieve design goals. Integrated design provides an opportunity to blend the full range of LID practices based on observations of existing conditions to address the needs and constraints of the site. When possible, work with an engineer, designer, landscaper, contractor or consultant who has appropriate experience and accreditation for LID design and implementation in the arid southwest. A common phrase among experienced LID practitioners is "slow, spread and sink stormwater" as seen in the graphics below.

- Maintenance:
- Minimize soil disturbance
 - Avoid raking and leaf blowers
 - Leave chopped trimmings as mulch
 - Manually remove unwanted vegetation
 - NO chemicals

Best Practices: Healthy soils = Functional LID

- During Construction:
- Avoid compaction
 - Loosen soil/over excavate
 - Plant appropriate native vegetation
 - Use wood mulch

Rain Garden

A rain garden may mitigate flooding/drainage challenges associated with roadway flooding, sheet flow across residential parcels, and on-parcel runoff from impervious residential surfaces. Rain gardens provide optimal areas to increase vegetation for both soil stabilization and shade benefits. Areas of ponding are ideal places to locate rain gardens to create conditions for greater infiltration. Loosen soil at least 6 inches deep after excavating the infiltration area, add organic mulch 4 inches deep, plant grasses that thrive in periodic inundation conditions, and allow tree roots to establish in basin.

Berms

Berms can be placed to retain water for landscape irrigation benefits and/or redirect stormwater flows away from property and structures. Berms are often constructed on contour, perpendicular to the slope of the land to slow water down and promote infiltration. Berm slopes should not be steeper than 3:1. For example, a 3 foot wide berm should not be taller than 1 foot. Use a maximum slope of 3:1 on the upstream side, while on the downstream side, use a 4:1 slope. In sandy soils, slopes of 5:1 or more are preferred to minimize berm erosion. Berm should be compacted as directed by an Engineer.

Rain Tank

Rain tanks offer an important method in arid regions to store water during dry periods for outdoor and indoor water use. Tanks can be sized to capture a home's annual water needs if space and budget allow.

One Rock Dam

One Rock Dams are an important tool for residential scale erosion control, especially as an alternative to a check dam. A series of well-built One Rock Dams in a wash or erosive flow path can be much more effective than check dams, especially given the relative difficulty of constructing check dams and the potential for failure resulting in increased erosion and flood risks.

A well-constructed One Rock Dam will tie rock into the adjacent banks and secure the low flow rock below the channel bed to create sufficient strength to resist the expected scour/erosion forces. Rock should be sized for the largest expected flows to ensure features remain in place to minimize erosion in all expected design conditions.

Curb Cut

Curb cuts are important features in areas with curb and gutter for incorporation into new development as well as retrofitting developed communities. Curb cuts capture, slow and clean street runoff.

Zuni Bowl

Zuni Bowls can be used in washes/channels or in the uplands to dissipate energy, manage sediment, and stop erosion and head cutting. It is important to use experienced, skilled labor to effectively place rock to resist the forces of flows and to ensure large rock are keyed in at the bottom of the bowl and the edges of the banks where erosive forces will be greatest.

Rain Garden

Rain gardens are sunken garden areas where the existing soil has been loosened and covered with wood mulch. It is planted with deep rooted native vegetation that capture, absorb and help infiltrate stormwater.

Make sure to size for a larger rainfall event!

One Rock Dam

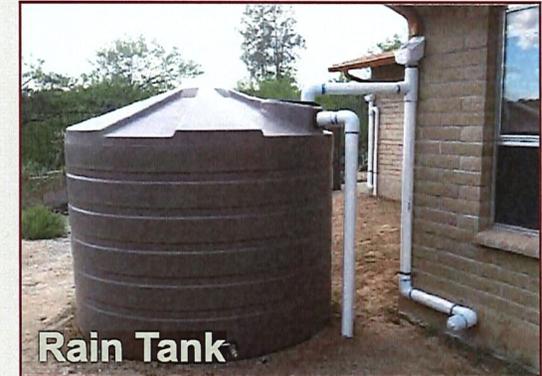

One rock dams are an important tool for residential scale erosion control. A series of one rock dams in a wash can be much more effective than check dams due to their ease of construction and reduced risk of failure.

Don't let it get away!!
Make stormwater work for you and the environment!

Sediment Trap

Sediment traps are one of the most important and often overlooked components of LID. Managing sediment in an arid environment is especially important given the sheer volume of sediment laden stormwater in the mainly rural areas of Mohave County.

Rain Tank

A Rain Tank offers residents of arid regions an important method to store water during dry periods for future outdoor use as well as indoor use if treated appropriately.

Interoffice Memorandum

TO: Board of Supervisors

FROM: School Superintendent, Alfredo I. Velásquez

SUBJECT: Proclamation for February to be “Early Childhood Education Awareness Month”

DATE: January 17, 2020

CC: Jennifer St. John, County Manager

Recommendation:

Approve the Proclamation “Early Childhood Education Awareness Month February 2020.”

Background:

The goal for this proclamation is to shed light on the importance of early childhood development and the importance for parents to be informed of the best educational activities for their children. Early childhood development is extremely important because 90% of a child’s brain is developed between the ages of 1 Month and 4 Years. With childhood development programs, more students will be properly prepared to start kindergarten. As a result the generation will be academically stronger as they go on.

This is the 4th annual celebration and like previous years the entities working together for February as “Early Childhood Education Awareness Month” are Santa Cruz County School Superintendent’s Office, University of Arizona Cooperative Extension Santa Cruz County, First Things First, Mariposa Community Health Center, Family Resource Centers in Nogales, Patagonia and Rio Rico, Nogales Santa Cruz County Libraries, Santa Cruz County, Nogales Unified School District #1, Santa Cruz Valley Unified School District #35, Patagonia Public Schools Districts #6 and #20, Sonoita Elementary District #25, Santa Cruz Elementary District #28, Charter Schools, Private Schools, Nogales and Rio Rico Head Start Centers, Child and Family Resources, Inc., Preschools and Childcare Providers.

The activities for February include: 1)The Santa Cruz County School Superintendent’s Office sponsoring the “Read on Santa Cruz County Initiative” which promotes early literacy in our schools, 2) Santa Cruz County Public Schools sponsoring various early childhood events and initiatives in their respective school sites, 3) The Santa Cruz Regional Partnership council of First Things First holding its “8th Annual First Things First Celebrates the Young Child Community Event” on February 9th, 4) The Nogales Rotary Club luncheon with Preschool Directors to recognize the leaders of our Santa Cruz County Preschools, 5) Story Time and Family Fun Afternoons at the Nogales Santa Cruz County Libraries.

Financial Implications:

None

Proposed Motion:

“Mr. Chairman I move to approve the Proclamation “Early Childhood Education Awareness Month February 2020.”

PROCLAMATION

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION AWARENESS MONTH FEBRUARY 2020

WHEREAS, early childhood years are when the brain grows and develops the most. In fact, 90% of a child's brain develops by age 5, before they enter kindergarten; and

WHEREAS, scientific research has shown that a child's experiences in their early years affect how their brain develops. Research has also proven that kids with quality early childhood experiences do better in school, are more likely to go to college, and have successful careers. They also tend to be healthier and demand less from the public welfare system; and

WHEREAS, the goal of Santa Cruz County School Superintendent Alfredo I. Velásquez in 2020 is to raise community awareness about the support system Santa Cruz County has for families that have children from 0-5 years of age; and

WHEREAS, several entities working together for February as "Early Childhood Education Awareness Month" are Santa Cruz County School Superintendent's Office, University of Arizona Cooperative Extension Santa Cruz County, First Things First, Mariposa Community Health Center, Family Resource Centers in Nogales, Patagonia and Rio Rico, Nogales Santa Cruz County Libraries, Santa Cruz County, Nogales Unified School District #1, Santa Cruz Valley Unified School District #35, Patagonia Public Schools Districts #6 and #20, Sonoita Elementary District #25, Santa Cruz Elementary District #28, Charter Schools, Private Schools, Nogales and Rio Rico Head Start Centers, Child and Family Resources, Inc., Preschools and Childcare Providers; and

WHEREAS, during the month of February activities orientated toward young children include: -The Santa Cruz County School Superintendent's Office sponsoring the "Read on Santa Cruz County Initiative" which promotes early literacy in our schools; -Santa Cruz County Public Schools sponsoring various early childhood events and initiatives in their respective school sites throughout the entire month of February; - The Santa Cruz Regional Partnership council of First Things First holding its "9th Annual First Things First Celebrates the Young Child Community Event" on February 8th bringing together community partners to provide elements of early education development, parent/family education and health while providing a fun, safe event for parents and families with children birth to five; -The Santa Cruz County School Superintendent's and Nogales Rotary Excellence luncheon with Early Childhood Educators to recognize the leaders of our Santa Cruz County early education - Story Time and Family Fun Afternoons at the Nogales Santa Cruz County Libraries and

NOW, THEREFORE, the Santa Cruz County, Arizona, Board of Supervisors does hereby proclaim the month of February 2020 as:

"EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION AWARENESS MONTH"

and urges all citizens to actively participate in the scheduled activities and programs sponsored by local, state and national organizations, to work toward the elimination of personal and institutional violence against women and children.

The Honorable John Fillmore
Arizona State House of Representatives
1700 W. Washington Street
Phoenix, AZ 85007

Re: Opposition to HB2030 & HB2458

Dear Representative Fillmore:

On behalf of Santa Cruz County (SCC), we are writing to express our opposition to House Bills 2030 and 2458, Amending Sections 28-369, 28-982, 28-1102, 28-4846, 41-1777, 41-1742, Arizona Revised Statutes; relating to the Department of Public Safety. As we understand, these bills propose to transfer the jurisdiction over the ports of entry from the Arizona Department of Transportation and place it under the Department of Public Safety.

This change simply does not need to be made and it could have a huge negative impact on the Arizona border economy. A rural economy that has struggled to recover from the recession.

The value of cross-border trade to the Arizona-Mexico border is close to $30 billion dollars. The Arizona Department of Transportation (ADOT) and its Enforcement Division or a ECD, have done a remarkable job of ensuring the safety of our roads while working with industry to help make the truck safety inspection process far more transparent.

ADOT-ECD created the Border Liaison Unit, a highly specialized unit within their ranks that is focused on working with truck drivers and the trucking industry on programs designed to better train drivers on the safety concerns before leaving their location in Mexico and approaching the border. These innovative programs are not just on the leading edge of transportation but have marked a historic change in the paradigm of how truck safety is enforced at the border.

Trucks that come across the border into Arizona, just over 396,000 in 2018, are subject to various levels of safety and security inspections. From Customs and Border Protection (CBP) and its security mission focused on protecting the Homeland, to the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Food and Drug Administration, that are focused on the safety of agriculture commodities and our nation's food supply, to the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) and ADOT-ECD that are both tasked with ensuring the safety of our roads.

On the Arizona border, ADOT-ECD and FMCSA are collocated at the Nogales and San Luis ports of entry, a great advantage for trucks as both agencies can look at a truck with a single stop, over the approach in many other locations where trucks have to stop twice for redundant safety inspections. Late last year, FMCSA proposed separating from ADOT and building their standalone facilities for every truck entering Arizona. FMCSA and the federal government were subjected to a barrage of opposition to this proposal including opposition from our Senators and Congressional delegation along with multiple local government entities and private sector representatives. And the opposition to that proposal was founded on the great working relationship between ADOT and industry as well as the leadership that ADOT has demonstrated in creating unique programs that have made Arizona's ports of entry the envy of California, New Mexico, and Texas.

The result of Arizona has been higher levels of compliance with safety requirements, a dramatic decrease in the number of fines; a decrease in the amounts assessed in each fine (when they are warranted) and industry has confirmed that these programs have resulted in lower operating costs and cost-savings on truck insurance policies. In short, our roads are safer and Arizona is more competitive. There is simply no need for the transfer of jurisdiction to DPS for these functions. ADOT-ECD has excelled and is seen as a national leader on innovation and safety. We fear that a change to DPS could jeopardize all the work done to make our roads safer and our region more competitive and force a new start with DPS and understanding the different approach and mission they may bring to the table. We also believe that DPS's mission is a critical one, a mission that deserves their full attention and not simply expand it in a situation where it is simply not needed. We do not think you should change from compliance and safety (ADOT) to enforcement and fines (DPS).

Again, please allow us to express our opposition to HB 2030 & HB 2458. We are willing to speak to you personally and/or participate in any hearing or discussion that you and the State Legislature may hold in addressing regards this proposal.

Sincerely,

Bruce Bracker
